FROM THE EDITOR....

This has got to be the worst. Here I am stuck in the middle of my busiest season, and I am having my mid-life crisis, starting all over again, and on top of it I have to fulfill my responsibilities as editor of this newsletter. Let's just say this is not going to be one of the better SCCCOREs.

What gives, you ask? Well, where do I begin? I have moved out of my house and my wife and I are calling it quits after 13 years of marriage. It is a long story which has no place in these pages except to say that I am in more of a mess right now than I have ever been in before, and it's going to be, uh, interesting to see what happens.

Thanks to my good buddy David, N6DLU, I have a place to live for a couple of months while I sort out all the legal and personal stuff that comes with such a move. The P.O. Box I have used for the SCCC address is now my own mailing address. My new telephone number is (818) 796-0062. I would really appreciate it if anyone who needs to contact me would not leave messages at my old number. The less I can encumber my wife with, the better.

Also, take note: I am finally completely packetized, so now you can leave messages for me on the DX system addressed to WA6OTU, if you want to risk it (see the President's Report). I also check LABBS regularly on 145.01. Please do not send anything else to me at N6DLU or W6UE. I may not get it.

So enough of my personal woes. This bulletin will be slim, as it were, because I am virtually sitting on a box as I type with a lone, bare lightbulb hanging from the ceiling. What printer am I going to use? Shoot, I don't know. I'm thankful I have a computer to use at all. Gee, isn't a week enough time to get the bulletin out? Usually, yes, but 'tis the 'Holiday Season,' it's seven days before the next meeting, and I will be really lucky to get it into your hands by then.

Here's what you won't find in this issue which you should: No roster corrections or additions. No statistical analysis of the questionnaire response, which, by the way, is fair, with 30 of 90 members showing they give a hoot about the SCCC. No want ads, possibly no Oblast update, no log forms, and no SCCC Calendar.

What you will find, though, is all the scores sent to me by whatever means over the last two months. The questionnaires were pretty clear about that, to me at least (maybe it's that I'm feeling defensive). You see, I don't think printing the scores are of any value unless you get all or most of them. One score here, one score there from a few guys who got on, some serious, some not, seems kind of meaningless to me. Well, some members expressed in their questionnaires that the scores were VERY important, so here they are, on the front page, even.

I must say, though, that collecting them is a big pain in the ass, and making something out of them is even harder, so here's the deal. This is the way you are gonna get 'em if I have to be the one to do it. If on the other hand, some hearty soul with a keen mind for organization and analysis and an eye for good layout takes this task over, I will gladly give them all the room they want to print their skilled and timely analyses and reports.

Any volunteers?

As for elections, I have not had a single moment to think about what to do about elections. But then it's not my job, either. Oh, well. Maybe we'll vote for some kind of slate at the TRW meeting coming up. If you don't want to get elected behind your back, you'd best show up to decline your nomination.

Thanks for helping me get through this stuff I'm in the middle of. Your support and thoughts are appreciated. Good luck in the contests. 73 for now,
Mark, WA6OTU

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Unfortunately, there is no President's report this month because when I lugged my computer out to the shack to unload Kevin's report off the packet network, where it been sitting for the last few weeks, I found it was no longer there. This seems strange to me because I did not delete it, so somebody else must have, but why would anyone do that without at least checking with me to see if I had received it yet? Maybe packet is destined for the electronic curio shelf, after all. I won't go into it here, except to say that it seems kind of unreliable and therefore somewhat useless besides being an occasionally helpful operating aid.

Maybe there are some packet proponents out there who would like to try and convince me otherwise?

Sorry Kevin. You did your part and my hands are kind of tied. Maybe next issue....

P.S. Kevin wanted me to tell you all that he will have his new dinky two-memory voicer at the next meeting for a demo. He says it really sounds good, so don't miss it.

Mark, WA6OTU

THE VICE PREZ SEZ....

Well, by now you should have fully recovered from the ravages of "Hell Month." Time now to start thinking about this winter's NA QSO Parties and NA Sprints.

Once again I will be putting together CW and SSB teams for both NA Contests. Please drop me a note or give me a landline so that I can have the teams put together soon enough to send in the rosters. Final team rosters must be in the mail to the contest sponsors 5 days before the contest so don't delay.

I will notify all participants as to which team they are on just before the contest starts (if possible). I would like to see us put together 3 teams for each contest/mode. Band conditions will be better than last September and activity should be high for both contests.

I can be reached during the day at 805 277-4900 or evenings at 619 373-2204. 73 es GL,
Bob, W9NQ

Minutes of the Last Meeting

The October meeting of the Southern California Contest Club was an open-house/barbeque hosted by Rick Craig, N6ND, at his home/station in Ramona. It was truly awesome. If you haven't seen an 80 meter yagi or a 200 foot tower, boy, did you miss out.

Those present were:

- N6CW - Terry
- W6HAL - Leon
- NE6I - Dennis
- W6KUT - Ed
- W6MKB - Terry
- W6MVW - Dick
- N6ND - Rick
- WA6OTU - Mark
- K6STI - Brian
- N6TJ - Jim
- W6UQF - Chas
- K9VV - Fred
- NI6W - Kurt
- KI6X - Dan
- W6XD - Art
- K6XT - Art
- W6YA - Jim

It was great, the only guy in attendance who wasn't a member must have felt the heat, because he paid up on the spot. Consequently, everyone who was there was a member, in the long run.

We narrowly escaped having a meeting break out in the middle of all the fun, but we all managed to suppress the urge to discuss any club business at all, so our pleasurable afternoon was not broken up by any of that sort of riff-raff. The club president, Kevin, NC6U, had threatened to have nominations of officers for the next term, but he didn't even make it to the meeting himself, so too bad.

No, really, we talked about that and decided that the club should recommend a slate at the December meeting, at which time any other nominations will also be fielded, and the officers will be decided by a vote of those present at that meeting. This is great when you don't have any by-laws except one, so we can do it however we feel like it. Perhaps it is time to establish some guidelines for this sort of stuff.

So, anyway, it is pretty obvious that if you give a hoot about your Club, you ought to make darned sure you make it to the next meeting at Reuben's in Manhattan Beach after the TRW Swapmeet in December.

Thanks again to Rick and Myrna for their wonderful hospitality. It was a great party.
